PRODUCTION COMPANY BRINGS TOGETHER GREEN AND TECHNOLOGY TRENDS

CHERRY HILL, NJ – October 15, 2009 – E Video Productions, a full-service video production and marketing company, recently announced their Video Marketing & Entertainment Solutions packages to help Conferences, Trade Shows, Expos and Seminars go green and keep up with technological trends.

This unique package of services features a combination of tech-savvy products, creative concepts and green initiatives, three areas in which E Video Productions excels. Companies can learn more about the Video Marketing & Entertainment Solutions packages at the Christian Chamber of Commerce Marketplace Expo (booth #217) taking place today at the Crowne Plaza Hotel in Cherry Hill, NJ.

According to owner Darcie King, “We have found that most large-scale events have the same needs. They need to attract attendees, sponsors and exhibitors, to keep attendees’ interest throughout the entire event, and to increase the ROI for attendees so that they will have a positive event experience. This package helps meet all of these goals and provides an environmentally friendly way to distribute materials.”

E Video Productions has combined three of their products and services into their Conference Services packages. These services include the Webmercial – eliminating the need for bulky brochures and giving prospective attendees, exhibitors and sponsors an accurate view of the event; the Concept Video – a unique way to entertain attendees or honor a speaker or awards recipient; and the Green DVD Brochure – a way to include not only the most effective sights and sounds of the event, but also allows event organizers to put additional materials such as flyers and registration forms directly on the DVD for a paperless promotion of upcoming events.

Many of these event services offered by E Video Productions have been used by companies such as The Facilities Expo, ALDA, The Beauty Foundation for Women's Cancer Care, The Christian Chamber of Commerce and the Lakewood Blue Claws.
